DEVELOPMENT CURVE

Direction matters more than current level — a steady rise across the full 2025/26 season, not a single outlier match.

Development area: 1,667 minutes as a regular starter show he can already handle a full season's workload — the next step is efficiency in the final third, not intensity, which is already elite.

THE OPPORTUNITY

An Elite Pressing Winger. Available Now.

IDEAL FOR CLUBS THAT

- Play aggressive, pressing football
- Attack vertically
- Demand defensive work rate from their wingers
- Actively hunt transition moments

B360 ASSESSMENT

Ermolaev combines uncompromising counter-pressing intensity with aggressive vertical running. His impact begins before his team even wins the ball back — which makes him especially interesting for clubs whose playing model runs on pressing, intensity, and fast transitions.
